

UPDATED: April 27, 2020

La. Gov. John Bel Edwards has extended the state's current stay-at-home order through May 15, which had been scheduled to end on April 30.

However, there are some changes that will be allowed on May 1.

- Malls will remain closed to the public, but stores may open for curbside delivery.
- Restaurants will be allowed to open their outside areas for patrons to eat meals only, without tableside service.
- All employees of a business who have contact with the public must wear a mask.

On May 16, Gov. Edwards plans to begin phase one of a gradual reopening, and restaurants will be allowed to offer dine-in services with modifications, worship services can resume in person, salons and personal care businesses can reopen, though businesses will have to operate at a reduced 25% occupancy.

The governor also appealed to the residents of Louisiana to wear a mask when out and about, based on recommendation by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the Louisiana Department of Health.
